Apex Concierge Health

Medicine that puts you first.

A complete brand and messaging system for a physician-led concierge Direct Primary Care practice in Pikesville, Maryland.

LED BY DR. ELIE N. MILLER · PIKESVILLE, MD · VERSION 03

Medicine that puts you first.

The core idea behind every word and image. Patients are not paying for visits. They are paying for access, time, trust, relationship, and peace of mind.

CORE POSITIONING STATEMENT

Apex Concierge Health is a physician-led concierge Direct Primary Care practice in Pikesville, Maryland that gives patients real access, real time, and a real relationship with their doctor. For people tired of rushed, impersonal medicine, Apex is primary care built around the patient instead of the schedule.

BRAND PROMISE

You will always have a doctor who knows you, listens to you, and is there when you need answers.

VALUE PROPOSITION

Longer visits, direct access to your doctor, and no insurance runaround. The difference is time, and time changes the quality of your care.

Differentiators

- One physician who knows your history. Dr. Miller is your single point of contact.
- The difference is time. A panel of about 300 patients instead of 2,500.
- Longer visits, direct access, and more responsive communication.

Ideal Patient Profiles

- Busy professionals who value time and responsiveness.
- Families who want one trusted physician for the people they love.
- Older adults who want more access and continuity of care.

- No copays per visit and no surprise bills.
No insurance runaround.
- Proactive, preventive care instead of reactive, problem-by-problem visits.
- Concierge attention without losing the warmth of a neighborhood practice.
- Patients worn down by rushed, impersonal healthcare.
- Employers offering elevated primary care as a benefit.

Why patients choose Apex, emotionally

- They want to feel known, not processed.
- They want peace of mind that someone is paying attention.
- They want to trust the person managing their health.
- They want to stop feeling like a number.

Why patients choose Apex, practically

- Same-week, often same-day or next-day appointments.
- Longer visits and shorter waits.
- Direct communication for questions between visits.
- Coordinated referrals, labs, and follow-up.
- Preventive and chronic care handled proactively.

02 · BRAND VOICE

Calm, clear, and personal.

Apex should sound like a trusted doctor speaking to a patient they respect. Warm and human, precise and credible, never corporate or salesy. The live site is the reference: plain, direct, confident.

Personal

We speak like a trusted physician, not a corporation. Plain language, first-name warmth.

Reassuring

We lower the temperature. Calm and steady, never alarmist or fear-driven.

Credible

We are medical and exact. We earn trust with clarity, not buzzwords.

Direct

We say what we mean in short, clean sentences. One idea at a time.

Warm

We sound like someone who genuinely cares, because we do.

The test

If it sounds like a brochure or a billboard, rewrite it until it sounds like a person.

Tone guidelines

- Lead with the patient, not the practice.
- Use "you" and "your." Refer to "your doctor" and "we."
- Short sentences. Confident, never boastful.
- No jargon, no fear, no pressure.
- Never use em dashes. Use periods and commas.

Access language, handled carefully

Do not promise round-the-clock availability unless it is clearly offered. Use safer, honest phrasing:

03 · COLOR

A clean, modern medical palette.

Pulled directly from the live Apex site. Deep navy and blue anchor the system, sky blue adds lift, and soft blue-white grounds keep it calm and credible. No spa pastels, no harsh hospital blue.

 Navy Primary anchor HEX #192E4B	 Blue Primary, links and CTAs HEX #2668A0	 Sky Accent and highlights HEX #4A90C4	 Ink Headlines and body text HEX #111827
 Pale Blue Soft fills and tags HEX #C8DFF0	 Ice Cards and panels HEX #EDF5FB	 Mist Page background HEX #F4F8FC	 Slate Secondary text HEX #5B7184

Supporting neutrals: Stone #C0D4E4 for borders and rules, and Cloud White #FFFFFF as the base ground.

NAVY TINT SCALE

BLUE TINT SCALE

WORKING BALANCE

Let white and mist carry the space. Navy leads, blue supports and drives action, sky is the bright accent. Keep blue on white for links and buttons, and reserve sky for small highlights.

04 · TYPOGRAPHY

Expressive serif, clean sans.

Two typefaces, taken straight from the site. Fraunces carries the brand voice with warmth and character. DM Sans handles everything functional with clean, modern legibility.

05 · LOGO SYSTEM

The mountain mark, with room to breathe.

The summit is the meaning of the name: the peak of personal care. Give the logo space, keep it in brand colors, and never crowd or distort it. Three production files are provided.

Use the black mark on white, ice, and stone. Use the white mark on navy, blue, and sky. Keep strong contrast so the wordmark stays legible.

Clear space

Keep open space around the mark equal to the height of the letter A in APEX. Let the summit breathe, especially in the site header and on signage.

Minimum size

Keep the full lockup legible at roughly 130px wide on screen. Below that, the mountain mark can stand alone as an icon.

Files

Black on white, white on black, and white on transparent. Request vector (SVG or EPS) versions for print and large-format use.

+ Do

- Give it generous, quiet space.
- Keep it black, white, or a single brand color.
- Pair it with navy and plenty of white.

✗ Don't

- Recolor, stretch, or rotate the mark.
- Add drop shadows, gradients, or outlines.

- Place it on a busy photo or low-contrast color.

06 · VISUAL DIRECTION

Icons, photography, web, and print.

How the system shows up in the real world, matched to the live site. The throughline is restraint: clean lines, real warmth, and plenty of space.

Icon style

Thin, single-weight line icons with rounded joins, drawn in navy or blue. Simple and medical, never cartoonish or filled. The mountain mark sets the tone: clean geometry, no clutter.

Photography style

Real, natural light. Authentic patients and the physician, candid rather than posed. Calm settings, genuine connection, with mountain and landscape imagery as a quiet nod to the name. Avoid sterile stock, staged smiles, and waiting-room clichés.

Website direction

Lead with a clear human headline and one strong call to action. Soft blue-white grounds, navy and blue type, sky used only for fine accents. Show the doctor and real patients early. Make membership and contact easy to find. Keep copy short and scannable.

Print direction

Calm, editorial layouts with wide margins. Fraunces headlines over DM Sans body. The mountain mark as a quiet anchor, not a watermark. Mist and ice grounds, navy panels, blue accents. Uncoated or matte stock suits the clean, credible feel.

Ready-to-use language.

Headlines, hero copy, and section blocks in the Apex voice, aligned to the live site. Drop these straight into the website, print pieces, or Canva.

ABOUT SECTION

Apex Concierge Health was founded on a simple belief: patients deserve a real relationship with their doctor. Led by Dr. Elie N. Miller, the practice has grown to more than 300 patients in its first year by doing the opposite of rushed, impersonal medicine. The difference is time. When a doctor sees 300 patients instead of 2,500, the quality of care changes. You are not a chart or a fifteen-minute slot. You are a person your doctor knows.

MEMBERSHIP SECTION

One price. No hidden fees. An Apex membership is access to your doctor and ownership of your health. Members receive longer appointments, direct access, and responsive communication with Dr. Miller, along with proactive, preventive care. No copays per visit, no surprise bills.

EMPLOYER AND PARTNER PROGRAM

Apex for Teams brings concierge-level primary care to your people. Offer staff a stronger physician relationship, faster access to care, and a more proactive approach to health. The result is employees who feel supported and a team that spends less time fighting a broken system.
